TARIFF BILL READY.

The Democratic Members Have Completed Their Work.

SOME OF THE BILL'S PROVISIONS.

The Last Item Finally Acted Upon Was the Sugar Schedule Finished Saturday.

ITS CHANGES MADE PUBLIC.

This Was Done to Prevent Speculators Who, Falsely Pretending to Have Information on the Subject, From Manipulating the Stock Market—The Changes in the Schedule of Other Articles.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Democratic members of the committee on ways and means completed their tariff bill late last night near midnight, the last item finally acted upon being the sugar schedule. It being brought to their attention that speculators falsely pretending to have information of their proposed action, have been seeking to manipulate the stock market, they deemed it best to depart from their general plan of refusing information as to tariff items until their full bill is made public, and at once to publish their conclusions on this schedule so that all men may stand on the same footing of authentic information.

The new bill to be promulgated will show the following changes in the sugar schedule. The duty on refined sugar is reduced from one-half to one quarter of a cent a pound. Raw sugar remains free of tax. The McKinley bounty is repealed progressively, that is one eighth each year, so at the end of eight years it is to cease entirely.

The new bill will be laid before the full membership of the ways and means committee today. The call for a full meeting of the committee was issued nearly a week ago by Chairman Wilson. When the committee convenes the bill will be submitted by Chairman Wilson and then read at length, and a Democratic member will then promptly move that it be adopted by the committee. The measure will be adopted by a strict party vote.

It is now definitely announced that the internal revenue schedule will be reserved until a later date, as it is not yet contemplated. The practical certainty, however, that the changes in this feature of the law will be slight, and that the increase of the whisky tax, if an increase at all, will not exceed 10 cents per gallon, deprives the internal revenue schedule of any great public interest.

In its general terms the new tariff bill may be called a radical measure. The free list will be a surprise to the country. It will include wool, iron ore, coal, cotton ties, copper, lumber, chocolate, salt, binding twine, flax, lead ore and many other articles of less importance to the large commercial interests.

The disposition of wool and woolen goods has been one of the most difficult problems that the committee had to solve. After two months of deliberation it has been finally decided to adopt the Springer policy of the last congress in all the material details, and the written report to accompany this portion of the bill will also be substantially the report of the last chairman of the ways and means committee, therefore, the wool and woolen schedule will be as follows:

All wools, hair of the camel, goat, alpaca and other like animals and all wool and hair on the skin, all top waste, slubbing waste, roving waste, ring waste, yarn waste, card waste, bur waste and flocks, including all waste or rags composed wholly or in part, of wool, worsted or hair of the camel, goat, etc., valued at not more than 30 cents per pound, are rated at 35 per cent, which is the ad valorem rate under the present law without the specific duty which that bill provides.

On all woolen and worsted clothes, shawls and knit fabrics, and all fabrics made on knitting machines or frames, and all manufactures of every description made wholly or in part of wool and worsted or hair of the camel, goat, etc., valued at not more than 30 cents per pound, the duty is 40 per cent. On blankets, hats or wool, flannels, underwear, composed wholly or in part of wool or hair of the camel, goat, etc., valued at not more than 30 cents per pound, the duty is 25 per cent; valued at more than 30 cents, and not more than 50 cents per pound, the duty is 30 per cent. On blankets and hats of wool valued at not more than 50 cents per pound, the duty is 35 per cent.

There is likewise a well accredited forecast as to the schedule, which includes women's and children's dress goods on which with coat linings, Italian cloths and goods of similar character, the warp of which is cotton or other vegetable matter, the value not exceeding 15 cents per square yard, a duty of 35 per cent is placed. On women's and children's dress goods, wholly or in part, wool, worsted, etc., the duty is fixed at 40 per cent. On clothing ready made and articles of wearing apparel, the duty of 45 per cent is placed.

On cloaks, dolmans, jackets, etc., for ladies and children, a duty of 45 per cent; on webbing, suspenders, bolting, binding, braids, galloons, fringes, etc., 40 per cent; on common carpets which were taxed 30 per cent in the Springer bill, the duty in the tariff bill will be about 35 per cent and on some of the finer grades of carpets, all of which were taxed 45 per cent in the Springer bill, the duty in this bill is somewhat less. The cut in the linen schedule is quite heavy; that on silk is comparatively light and the cut in the cotton schedule is nothing like as great as the cut in wool.

The best information is that steel rails will probably be put at $8 or $9 a ton, a smaller figure, representing a tariff of 40 per cent ad valorem, while nails are selling at their present low price of $20. Rails will be one of the few articles upon which a specific duty will be retained. Pig iron will probably be put at 5 per cent, while bar iron will be reduced about 50 per cent.

The rate on nearly all manufactures of cotton will be 40 per cent. This will include hosiery, which now pays compound duties ranging as high as 72 per cent of the classifications of different grades of goods will be abandoned. Manufactures of flax, hemp and jute will be greatly reduced in view of the placing of the raw materials on the free list.

The compound duty on collars and cuffs, it is said, will be abandoned and nothing left but the ad valorem rate of 35 or 40 per cent. The chinaware schedules will probably be reduced 10 per cent on the existing rates of 60 per cent and 55 per cent. The McKinley bill restored the duty on coverings, which are a large element in the cost of chinaware and practically made the increase in duty much greater than the apparent change in the ad valorem rate.

The latest reports from authentic sources give the following as included in the free list section of the new tariff bill: Wool, iron, ore, coal, binding twine, lumber, lead ore salt freestone, granite, sandstone, limestone and other building or monumental stone except marble, unmanufactured or undressed, grindstones, finished or unfinished, copper imported in the form of ores, regulus of copper and black or coarse copper and copper cement, blue vitrol or sulphate of copper, all preparations of coal tar, not colors or dyes, borax, crude or borate of soda or borate of lime, coloring for brandy, wine, beer or other liquors; coppers of sulphate of iron, iodine resublimed, olive oil, indigo, phosphorus, sponges, aluminum in crude form, alloys of any kind in which aluminum is the component material of chief value, antimony as regulus or metal, metallic mineral substances in a crude state and metals unwrought, flax straw, flax, spices ground or powdered, cayenne pepper, sage, timber hewn and sawed, and timber used for spars and in building wharves, timber squared or sided, sawed boards, plank, deals and other lumber of hemlock, white wood, sycamore, white pine and bass wood not planed or finished, cotton ties, chocolate and lead ores.

The Republican members of the committee are to be given 10 days' time in which to prepare a minority report dissenting from the recommendations of the majority of the committee. In regard to the new tariff bill, Chairman Wilson said: "The regular schedule we have made public because it was reported speculators were attempting to manipulate the market on the strength of alleged inside information and we did not desire to be considered a party to anything of this kind."

BRUTAL ROBBERS.

An Old Man and His Wife Horribly Treated by Three Desperadoes.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27.—Daniel Thomas, an eccentric and wealthy farmer, residing one mile northwest of the city, came near being murdered by robbers at his home early Saturday morning. Thomas is reputed to be a man of great wealth, and his visible possessions in the city and country would place him at a half millionaire.

He arose early in the morning and went out to the lara before his wife had arisen, and while there he was accosted by three strangers who demanded his money. As a preliminary he was knocked down, and the robbers proceeded to drag him in the direction of the robbers. Mrs. Thomas heard his cries and hurriedly ran to his assistance. They had a vicious bull dog confined in the house, and he sprang out when the door opened, and was in the act of coming to the relief of his master when one of the robbers shot him.

They continued on their way, one of the robbers taking charge of Mrs. Thomas with a revolver. After both had been taken to the house Thomas produced $25 and a watch, which he claimed was all he had, but the robbers were not satisfied and made Thomas and his wife remove their clothes, tied them to chairs and proceeded to punish them. After blindfolding them, the robbers burned their flesh with matches in their efforts to make them tell where they kept their money.

Finally Mrs. Thomas loosened herself and ran from the house and to a neighbor, but the robbers escaped soon after she had left, though not without beating old man Thomas about the face and head until his condition is considered most critical. There is no clew to the identity of the robbers, though the detectives have the case in hand.

MARKED FOR ASSASSINATION.

Two Attempts Made Within a Week to Murder a Cleveland Man.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—D. H. Patterson, timekeeper at the Otis iron and steel works, in this city, has evidently been marked for assassination. Twice within a week his life has been attempted. One night about a week ago a pistol was fired at him as he was riding in his carriage. The bullet struck his hat, knocking it from his head.

Saturday night, as he sat in his office, three shots were fired at him through the window. The curtain was down, and the assassin evidently aimed at Patterson's shadow, and for that reason missed his mark. Eleven years ago, and five years ago, Mr. Patterson was shot at, but he escaped injury in both cases. He can not imagine why he should be pursued in such a way, for he has not, as he knows, a single enemy. There is no clew to the would-be murderer.

TREASURY REPORT.

Receipts and Expenditures of the United States.

THE ANNUAL STATEMENT MADE.

It Has Been Submitted to Secretary Carlisle by Mr. D. N. Morgan and Will Be Included in the Secretary's Report to Congress—The Columbian Souvenir Coin Was Unpopular.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—United States Treasurer D. N. Morgan has submitted to Secretary Carlisle his annual report on the operations and conditions of the treasury. It shows that the net ordinary revenues for the fiscal year 1893 were $385,819,628, an increase of $80,881,844 over those of the year before. The net ordinary expenditures were $383,447,554, an increase of $38,454,623.

There was, therefore, a decrease of $7,772,779 in the surplus revenues reducing them to $2,341,674. Including the public debts, the total receipts were $732,871,214 and the total expenditures $778,007,998. The public funds amounted June 30, 1892, to $786,351,895 and on June 30, 1893, to $746,538,655. After setting apart those sums of gold, silver and United States notes which were held for the redemption of certificates of deposit and treasury notes, there was left a reserve or general fund of $187,012,740 in 1892 and $168,167,391 in 1893.

These accounts, however, included certain sums of certificates of deposit, bonds and coupons which were unavailable for any other purpose than the settlement of the treasurer's account and which, if cancelled, would have left an actual available working balance of $165,945,886 and $156,295,696 on the two dates respectively. By Sept. 30 this balance had been diminished to $149,250,268, owing to a deficiency in the revenues.

In seven months, beginning with last December, upward of $81,000,000 was drawn out of the treasury in redemption of notes, and the gold reserve was reduced during the same period by $29,000,000. During the next three months, with light redemptions and a deficiency of $19,000,000 in the revenue, the treasury lost $15,000,000 of gold, but the reserve fell off only $2,000,000.

The amount of gold during the fiscal year was the largest ever taken out of the country or brought into it in a like period, being upwards of $108,000,000, and that $102,000,000 of it was drawn out of the treasury by the presentation of legal tender notes. Most of the gold exported in former years was supplied by the treasury in exchange for gold certificates, and the report says that it is the first time that any considerable sums of notes have been presented for the metal.

With the exception of an increase of $45,500,000 in the amount of treasury notes issued in the purchase of silver bullion and a decrease of $80,000,000 in the combined volume of gold certificates and currency certificates, there has been, the report says, no important change in the public debt.

According to the revised estimate, the total stock of money of all kinds in the country on June 30 was $2,323,547,977, or nearly $51,000,000 less than at the same time last year. This contraction took place, notwithstanding the addition of $45,500,000 to the stock of silver and increase of $6,000,000 in the outstanding bank notes and was caused by the exports of gold.

In July, however, there began a heavy return movement of the metal, supported by a rapid expansion of the bank note circulation. By the end of September the stock of gold was restored to what it was when the exports began. The total increase of the effective stock of money in the three months was no lower than $95,000,000, bringing it up to a figure much above the highest ever reached before.

The treasurer's remarks that the sudden contraction and expansion within the space of 11 months affords a striking illustration of the degree of flexibility possessed by the currency.

The revised figures for the amount of money in circulation, that is, outside of the treasury on June 30, place it at $1,566,846,829, or about $6,000,000 less than it was a year before. During the four months ended with October, there was an increase of $125,000,000, a record altogether without parallel in the history of the country.

The redemptions of United States paper currency have been unusually heavy, amounting to $377,000,000 in the 15 months ended with October.

During the past two fiscal years there was recoined nearly one-fifth part of the whole estimated stock of subsidiary silver, an improvement, the report says, that is expected to increase the popularity and usefulness of this part of the currency.

Contrary to expectations the Columbian souvenir coins have not proved popular. Some of them were never taken out of the treasury, and others have been returned for redemption. An arrangement has been in contemplation under which the half dollars in the treasury will be recoined at the expense of the management of the exposition. It has not been decided what disposition is to be made of the quarter dollars of this coinage not disposed of. Although the nominal amount of counterfeit coins and paper currency presented at the treasury was greater than in the previous year, the increase was less proportionately than the increase of the amount of money handled.

Considerable additions were made to the bonds held in trust for national banks and for the Pacific railroad sinking fund.

The treasurer concludes by urging that the vaults and safes in his office be put in better condition in accordance with recommendations made in the report of the commission appointed to investigate the present methods of this kind of construction.

MOVING TO TARRYTOWN.

Edwin Gould Will Dodge the Tax on His Father's $10,000,000 Personal Property.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The long fight between the heirs of the estate of Jay Gould and the department of taxes and assessments over the assessment of the estate for $10,000,000 for personal property, has had a new feature added to it within a few days. Edwin Gould has leased the Barron Court property in Tarrytown, with the avowed intention of making that his home for taxable purposes, at least. By this move Mr. Gould, as one of the executors of his father's estate, will save a tax of $182,000, which the personal property of that estate now bears in this county. He will also save an annual tax on $100,000 of $1,890, which he pays on his own account.

The trouble between the Goulds and the tax department dates back to just after Jay Gould's death, on Dec. 2, 1892, when the probate of Gould's will showed his property, real and personal to amount to $72,000,000. The tax commissioner then levied the personal tax on the estate at $10,000,000 in place of $500,000, the amount Jay Gould said he owned.

There were strenuous protests against the increase by the executors of the estate, and the tax commissioners afforded George J. and Edwin Gould private hearings to allow them to prove the injustice of the tax. What transpired at the meeting has never been told, but the personal tax assessment of the estate remained at $10,000,000.

George J. Gould admitted that his brother Edwin, who was not at his office, had leased the Barron place. Mr. Gould said:

"My brother has leased the Barron place so that he can be near Helen and the rest of us, and possibly because he thinks the taxes which we are paying are excessive and unjust. We are satisfied to bear our share of the burdens of the government, and to pay an equitable tax, but we object to paying taxes on $10,000,000 of personal property when the Vanderbilt, the richest estate in this city, is only assessed for $8,000,000. Why, my brother Edwin and myself pay taxes on $500,000 worth of personal property, when Cornelius and William K. Vanderbilt are only assessed for $400,000. All we want in the matter is to be treated fairly and on a par with every other taxpayer. We are willing to pay our fair proportion, but when it comes to exacting more than this I think it is time for us to move where we can get fair treatment."

KANSAS POPULISTS SPLIT.

A New Party to Be Formed to Work for Free Silver Alone.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 27.—A secret meeting of Kansas Populists was held Friday night in this city, and although the exact place of the gathering and the detailed account taken by it is not known, it is learned from an authentic source that action most important to Populists, which will result in a split of the party in Kansas, was decided upon. The meeting was the result of a called meeting held here a week ago, and it is said that among those present and taking a leading part were Jerry Simpson, Messrs. Chenault of Fort Scott, Kan., Blair of Pratt, and Cy Corning and 50 others, all high in Populist circles. From authentic sources it is stated, however, that the delegates, after first swearing not to make public their intention at present, at least, denounced in the most unqualified terms the Kansas administration of the Populists up to date and declared for a new party, and that from now on they would put forth every effort to obtain free and unlimited coinage of silver, leaving the other planks of their former party to be taken care of as might be.

A SPLIT IN THE SPRECKELSES.

One of the Boys Is Being Crowded Away From the Sugar Barrel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—There is litigation in the family of Claus Spreckels, the sugar king. C. A. Spreckels, the youngest son, has begun it by filing a complaint against his father, Claus Spreckels, charging that the latter has conspired with John D. and A. B. Spreckels and other directors of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar company to crowd the plaintiff and other stockholders out of the corporation.

Allegations of fraud to secure the desired end are made with various revelations in connection with the business of the sugar company. Claus Spreckels and the two older sons are asked to pay $2,500,000 to the corporation as damages for the fraudulent conspiracy, and a demand is made upon the court for an injunction to prevent the carrying out of the plans.

H. M. Wolley is associated with C. A. Spreckels as a plaintiff, he holding five shares of the capital stock, while the latter claims to hold 900 shares. Philip N. Lillienthal of the Anglo-California bank and Meyer Ehrman, another local capitalist, are made defendants in the suit, as they hold a mortgage on property of the company, and the plaintiffs want an injunction to prevent foreclosure, alleging that such action is contemplated as a part of the fraudulent scheme to acquire possession of stock. W. D. K. Gibson and M. H. Weed, two of the directors, are also named as defendants, but in the complaint they are declared to own no stock, being merely dummies in the hands of Claus Spreckels and the two sons associated with him.

George Lyons, who, unaided, held up and robbed a Northern Pacific train near Wadena, Minn., on June 17, was convicted Friday night and committed suicide in the jail at Fergus Falls late Saturday afternoon.

RESULT OF A FEUD.

Terrible Tragedy Near Seymour, Indiana.

FIVE PEOPLE ARE NOW DEAD.

Clinton Jordan Kills His Aged Father-in-Law, His Mother-in-Law, His Wife and Her Sister—He Then Sends a Bullet Into His Own Breast, Killing Himself Instantly.

SEYMOUR, Ind., Nov. 27.—As the result of a terrible tragedy, growing out of a family feud, five people are dead in their country home, several miles east of this city. Four years ago, Clinton Jordan, then 21 years old, married a daughter of Joshua Foster, with whom he has never lived happily. Last week they separated, and she returned to the home of her father.

Late Saturday night Jordan met his father-in-law and accompanied him home, contrary to the wishes of the latter, who feared trouble. Jordan promised to behave, but soon after his arrival at Foster's home he began a quarrel. Foster then ordered him out of the house, when Jordan fired at the old man, but missed him, the ball striking Miss Cora Foster, aged 17, in the head, killing her instantly. His second shot hit Foster in the head and he fell, but he soon rose and ran a quarter of a mile to the home of another son-in-law, William Powell, where he fell, and lingered until late yesterday afternoon, when he died.

Jordan then turned his revolver toward Mrs. Foster, his mother-in-law, shooting her in the neck, the ball ranging downward and causing a wound from which she died last night. Jordan's wife attempted to defend her mother and he stabbed her repeatedly in the breast, hands and face, and ended by shooting her through the head.

Jordan then opened his vest, and placing the revolver against his breast sent a ball through his heart. He dropped dead, falling across the dead body of his wife. The pistol was placed so close to his breast that Jordan's clothing caught fire and was literally burned off of him, the skin dropping from his body, when it was lifted, and his corpse presented a horrible sight.

The revolver was a new 38-caliber Smith & Wesson, and it had evidently been bought with the premeditated purpose of killing his victims. The knife with which the murderer's wife was so cruelly gashed was also new and long and it had been freshly sharpened.

Foster, the aged victim, was 60 years old and his wife 50. Mrs. Jordan was only 18 years old.

Jordan had an unsavory reputation and when drinking, which he often did, he was ugly and quarrelsome. All the other victims were peaceful and orderly citizens.

Jordan, the assassin and suicide, was illiterate and very stupid, but he had always been considered harmless. His parents were respectable people. The scene at the Foster homestead is one of the most horrible ever witnessed in this county and the excitement is intense.

Had not Jordan killed himself, he would certainly have been very summarily punished by the enraged people.

MORE HAWAIIAN PAPERS.

Queen Liliuokalani's Report to Commissioner Blount.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The fourth volume of papers accompanying the Blount report was given out by the state department Saturday afternoon, consisting of all the enclosures made by Mr. Blount in his dispatches and with his report from Honolulu. It is the testimony on which he bases his report. Numerous affidavits, bearing on the events of the day the provisional government was proclaimed, go to show that Minister Stevens had recognized the provisional government and troops had been landed from the Boston before the queen's forces, under command of Marshal Wilson at the stationhouse in Honolulu, had surrendered to the provisional forces.

The statement of Liliuokalani, addressed to Mr. Blount, is of special interest and importance. It is a relation of all the events of her reign. On Dec. 17, 1892, she claims that she received a letter from a source she does not divulge, warning her that the American representatives were at that time preparing for the annexation of the islands. She appealed to the British commander, and he advised against her suggestion to lay the matter before all the members of the diplomatic corps.

The queen reviews all the important events leading up to the revolution and gives in detail the occurrences of that day. The statement of the circumstances attending the yielding authority to the provisional government does not differ from statements already made.

Deaths Caused by an Overturned Lamp.

VEEDERSBURG, Ind., Nov. 27.—Two little girls, the daughters of Lewis Davis, while curling their hair, accidentally overturned a lamp, the oil spreading over their clothing and ignited. They ran out into the yard, when their mother, attracted by their screams, rushed to them, but was helpless to check the flames. Their clothing was burned off and the charred flesh dropped from their bodies. One of them died ere they extinguished the flames, and the other lived only a short time. Mrs. Davis was so badly burned that she will die.

George Jordan, a well known and wealthy farmer, was found lying in his yard, near Richmond, Ind., with a bullet hole in his head and a loaded revolver at his side. It is thought that he suicided, but as no cause can be assigned for such a deed a theory of murder exists.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Increasing cloudiness, with rain or snow; east winds increasing in force; slightly warmer in northern portion.

For the Farmer.

The largest second crop of Irish potatoes ever raised in the Norfolk section of Virginia is now being harvested.

This crop is usually raised for seed, but the prolific yield this season enables the truckers to ship the bulk of it to market at the profitable figures of $2.75 and $3 a barrel. The shipment of the second crop of green peas is over.

Al. Richardson, of Ripley, sold a hog-head of tobacco at Cincinnati last week at $25 per hundred.

Jim Gardner, of the same town, also made a good sale of seven hogheads, realizing him from $15.75 to $21.50.

Published accounts of a large peach orchard in West Virginia give 1,000 Alexander, 1,000 Troth, 2,600 Mountain Rose, 5,000 Foster, 2,000 Wagner, 2,500 Old Mixon, 1,000 Yellow Alberger, 4,000 Wheatland, 1,000 Hill's Chili, 1,500 Late Crawford, 2,500 Smock, 6,000 Heath Cling, 5,000 Salway and a few thousand of other varieties. These dozen or more sorts give a succession in ripening for two or three months.

Raising Tomatoes for Canneries.

In speaking of raising tomatoes for canneries the Falmouth Guide has this to say: "The tomato crop is also a profitable crop to the farmer. Jesse V. Oldham, of near town, kept a record of about four acres grown by him this year. Notwithstanding the drought cut his crop short to less than one-half, it realized him about $50 per acre, and the prettiest part of the whole business is that it is not long after the whole crop is planted till harvested and the money in your pocket. Mr. Oldham would have realized no more for a crop of tobacco and would have been twelve months or longer getting his money. Farmers, consider this and don't depend altogether on tobacco."

Collecting Grasses.

James B. Olcott, grass agent at the Connecticut experiment station at South Manchester, that state, has been visiting Mobile recently for the purpose of collecting seeds of the native grasses. At the experiment station these grasses are cultivated and their merits recorded. This is but a small part of the work done at the station, but is of value as deciding what are the grasses that do best in certain climates and soils.—Exchange.

REV. EDWARD THOMSON, LL. D., who will lecture at the M. E. Church, South, to-morrow night, is a descendant of Jas. Thomson, the poet of "The Seasons." He belongs to the family stock of Sir William Thomson, (Lord Kelvin), the great English scientist. Dr. Thomson was born in 1848; began his preparatory work in Columbia College, under the late Dr. Charles Anthon, graduated at the Ohio Wesleyan University, studied law at Chicago Law School, medicine at Michigan University, and theology at the Garrett Biblical Institute. He was a professor in Baldwin University, Berea, Ohio; the Principal of Nebraska Conference Seminary, President of York College, Vice President of the University of South California, and Chancellor of Malibu University. Since the fall of 1889 his time has been given to lecturing on various subjects, the "Sunday Question" being his specialty. "The Dangers That Threaten Our Land," will be his subject to-morrow night. The public invited. Admission free.

HOW'S THIS?

Republican Rule in Kentucky Rather Expensive to the Tax-Payers.

Of Thirty-Eight Republican Counties
 Thirty-Six Drew More Than They Paid in.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Post furnishes some very interesting statistics for the consideration of the tax-payers of the State.

He writes that the report of the Auditor of Public Accounts to the Legislature, now in course of preparation, shows that out of the 119 counties in the State, only thirty-eight paid more revenue into the treasury for the year ending June 30 last than they drew out of it, which were four less in number than the previous year of 1892; and a noteworthy fact brought out by this table of receipts and expenditures, a commentary in itself on the government of counties controlled by the Republican party, is the proportion of Democratic and Republican net revenue counties, taking the last Presidential vote as a basis of calculation.

Of the thirty-eight Republican counties, only two paid more money into the treasury than they drew out of it, which is a proportion of .052 per cent.

Opposed to this, of the eighty-one Democratic counties, thirty-six paid more money into the treasury than they drew out of it, which is a proportion of .444 per cent. or a greater proportion than the Republican party by .392 per cent.

Added to this comparison it is shown that the Republican counties, deducting the net revenue of two of such counties, drew out of the treasury altogether for the year, over and above what they paid into it, the sum of $323,385.10, which is nearly $17,000 more than one-half of the total sum thus paid out to all the pauper counties, and of which the thirty-six Republican pauper counties show an average population of 10,922, taking the last United States census as the basis of computation, as contrasted with the forty-five Democratic pauper counties, which show an average population of 12,805.

The total receipts embrace all the revenue paid from the various counties excepting that which comes from the railroads and corporations which pay directly to the Auditor, and the expenditures include all under the head of the cost of criminal prosecutions, clerks' services, jury fund, pauper idiots, lunatics, Assessors' record books, commissions and for common schools.

Jefferson County's showing for the year was the total sum of $899,520.98 paid into the treasury and $501,578.11 drawn out of it, leaving a net revenue for the State of $397,942.87.

Mason County paid in $28,900.82 more than she drew out, Bracken $2,832.07, Fleming $3,539.99, Nicholas $4,462.34 and Harrison $11,739.50. These are all Democratic counties.

That Republican stronghold, "the State of Lewis" drew out of the treasury $6,439.40 more than it paid into it. Robertson is the only Democratic pauper county in this section. It drew $1,041.28 more than it paid into the treasury.

Only six counties paid a larger net revenue last year than Mason. The seven counties paying the largest net revenue for the year are:

Jefferson.....	$397,942.87
Fayette.....	105,151.08
Kenton.....	60,648.40
Bourbon.....	38,216.25
Campbell.....	37,385.63
Woodford.....	31,787.19
Mason.....	28,900.82

TWINS AND TWINS AND TWINS. Kentucky Family That Runs in Pairs. A Most Remarkable Record.

A special from Danville says that residing near Hustonville are Samuel and Angeline Jeffries, aged seventy-six each, whose lives are worthy of note, especially for their strict adherence to the scriptural injunction to "multiply and replenish the earth."

In a recent conversation, Mr. Jeffries said: "For six years and six months after my wife and I were married no children blessed our lives; but fifteen years after the expiration of that period my wife was the proud mother of nineteen children. In the number were seven pairs of twins. Within eleven months four children were born to us (two sets of twins), and at one time there were in the house four children unable to walk."

In my family were fourteen children—ten boys and four girls. The ten brothers married, and had thirty-four pairs of twins in their family. Two of these brothers who were twins went to Missouri, and there married twin sisters, and each had seven pairs of twins born to them. This beats the record in this line for Kentucky.

ONE of the "Toney" widowers of Mayslick has become suddenly interested in colonial history. He talks of Bunker Hill and the capture of Burgoyne, of Boston, of Camden and Trenton, and all the revolutionary heroes and heroines. He hopes well. "The Colonel" had to take a back seat, as he could only talk of the Windy City and its white suburb, which has faded and gone.

A POSTAL from Lexington says: "Your Mayslickers, located at No. 5 Barr street, are well pleased with the 'Athens of the West.'" Mrs. Fannie Fox and her daughter, Miss Susie, and Miss Lydia Dougherty are beginning to feel at home in this beautiful city. Mrs. Dr. Wheatley is happy in her new church, son Skillman is at school, and the Doctor is entering upon a fine practice. He had ten calls this morning."

THAT dread malady la grippe having again made its appearance in our midst, it behooves every one to take all precautionary measures against the sudden changes in the temperature. A pair of fleece-lined jersey leggings, of which you may see a complete line of ladies', misses' and children's at Miner's shoe store, will be a source of great comfort and protection to you this winter. SAYS the Flemingsburg Times-Democrat: "The Maysville Public Ledger has a sensational item about the elopement of Wm. Tuel, a farmer of Shannon, Mason County, aged sixty-five, with Miss Sarah A. Maier, of Ewing neighborhood, aged sixteen. There must be some mistake in the name of the bride, as there is no such family in the Ewing neighborhood, the nearest to it being the families of N. D. and James Mers. Our Ewing correspondent has said nothing about it, hence we doubt it."

HELD FOR RANSOM.

Five Thousand Dollars Offered From a Cincinnati Man For the Boy's Liberty.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 27.—Nothing has been heard from Joseph E. Boughen, chief clerk at the East End gas works, since Sept. 18 last. He went to Chicago about two weeks previous to that time to see the world's fair. A week later his father, M. J. Boughen, a manufacturer of hats on Fifth street, who lives on Baymiller street, near Clark, received a telegram from him, requesting that more money be sent him, as he had spent all that he had with him when he left. The money was sent, but in a few days the registered envelope in which it had been sent was returned, with the information that the party to whom it was addressed, at a hotel on Monroe avenue, had left and could not be found.

Boughen, who is only 17 years old, was last seen by a female relative, at the Ohio state building, in the fair grounds. He told her that he had sent home for money, and would remain in Chicago until it arrived. Mr. Boughen became alarmed at the continued absence of his son, and went to Chicago to investigate himself. He found that the boy had left the hotel after paying his bill, and took with him his valise. Nothing further could be learned of his whereabouts, and the police have ever since been scouring the city for him.

Recently the Chicago Inter Ocean took up the matter, and commenced to prosecute the search with renewed vigor, but the paper was no more successful than the police and private detectives had been. Boughen had disappeared as completely as if swallowed up by the earth. Mr. Boughen has spent hundreds of dollars in prosecuting the search, and has scattered circulars with printed likenesses of his son all over the country.

On Nov. 15 last he received a letter signed "W. B. B." The letter was written on ordinary white note paper, and was placed in a white envelope, which bore the Cincinnati postmark. It contained a harrowing story, probably intended as an explanation of young Boughen's disappearance. The letter stated that the writer was engaged in the kidnapping business as a profession. One night he, with a number of members of the gang, of which the writer says he is the chief, were engaged in kidnapping a young boy from his parents' house on one of the principal thoroughfares of Chicago. Young Boughen happened to pass the spot just as the boy was being forced into a waiting carriage. He attempted to interfere, and was placed in the carriage himself, with the boy, who was apparently insensible.

The carriage was driven rapidly away, and, according to the letter, both boys were placed on a ship in the harbor and confined there.

The letter went on to say that Boughen made his escape after being confined several days, and, getting possession of a revolver, was found by one of the crowd, who grappled with him. Boughen shot and killed the man. He was caught before he could escape and again confined, this time where there was no possibility of escape. Shortly after this he was taken ill with brain fever, and hovered between life and death for several days.

The letter concluded with an offer that the boy would be turned up if $5,000 was forthcoming at once. The writer stated that he did not want the money for himself, but for the family of the man whom young Boughen had killed when he attempted to escape. In all, Mr. Boughen received seven letters, all of the same tenor and to the same effect.

At first he paid little or no attention to them, but Thursday he concluded to lay the matter before the police. A meeting was arranged and the police late Saturday arrested Walter H. Heller, an alleged shoemaker, who lives at 134 Elm street. He is held on a temporary charge of suspicion, which will be changed to a graver one. The police do not believe his story and think it only a case of blackmail. Further investigation is being made.

FREIGHT TRAIN HELD UP.

Eight Desperate Robbers Attempt to Wreck a Passenger Train.

GOSHEN, Ind., Nov. 27.—The fast freight train No. 60, on the Lake Shore road, pulled in this place Saturday night with eight desperate robbers on board. Between this city and Elkhart they had made repeated efforts to uncouple a number of cars, it is believed, with the idea of wrecking the fast express train which passed here close behind the meat train.

Train No. 60 pulled out of Elkhart at 1:25 in the morning with orders to run to Ligonier without stopping. When it had left Elkhart a mile behind the train crew, which consisted of Conductor John Hickok and two brakemen, found that eight men were on the train, having concealed themselves between cars. The fellows made an effort to uncouple the last 10 cars of the train, but their efforts were foiled by the trainmen after a hard fight.

The crew, however, were not able to drive the men off the train. Five miles further another attempt was made to uncouple the cars, and another fight resulted which lasted until the train was pulling into Goshen. Hickok and one of the brakemen were badly battered up in the struggle. The engineer blew his whistle for help, and in a few minutes two officers and a crowd of citizens were at the train, but the robbers had made their escape, taking with them the watches of the engineer, two brakemen and Conductor Hickok. They also secured a small sum of money from each of the trainmen.

Later in the night a man giving the name of Henry Zimmerman was arrested and in his shoe was found $4, the amount taken from one of the brakemen. William Cone was also taken into custody after making a hard fight and $12, taken from Conductor Hickok, was found upon him. Zimmerman claims to be a resident of Kendallville, Ind., and Cone of Benton Harbor, Mich. The contradicting stories told by the former, all of which have been proven false, are practically enough to convict him.

It is believed by the Lake Shore officials that the men intended to leave the uncoupled cars standing upon the track with the idea of wrecking the express train, and then plundering the express car. President Newell of the Lake Shore road was here and offered a reward of $4,000 for the capture and conviction of the eight men, of $500 for the capture and conviction of any one of them. The express train, which the robbers endeavored to wreck, is the same train which was held up and robbed at Kessler, Ind., in September.

POWDERLY RESIGNS.

The Leader of the Knights of Labor Surrenders His Authority.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—T. V. Powderly resigned his position of general master workman of the Knights of Labor. He was unable to keep the delegates in the line he had marked out for them, and this decisive move seemed to be the only one left for him to adopt. Immediately after his resignation was offered he left the hall, as he said, to attend to some personal business.

This step was a surprise to all the delegates, although a few of them said it was what he should have done long ago. No action was taken on the matter, although it was the topic of a discussion which lasted until the assembly adjourned at 5 o'clock.

While the outcome of Powderly's resignation is still in doubt, some talk as to his probable successor is being freely indulged in. Sovereign of Iowa and McGuire of New York are those most prominently named, with the former somewhat in the lead.
